The Weakness of a Woman.

A woman who has suffered eighteen years, who has been cured after a life of misery and lives again in the sunshine of happiness, speaks to other women in words of no uncertain meaning.

For eightren years, Sara E. Bowen, of rea, Indiana, carried a burden of pain, ight and day, without respite, she suf-sed the most dreadful experience that ever

That she did not die is almost beyond letici.

That she is well to-day is a miracle. Mrs. Bowen's trouble requires no description beyond the symptom, which every woman will instantly recognize. In describing them Mrs. Bowen says in "Far eighteen years I saffered with weakness peculiar to my sex.

"I was a broken down piece of humanity I a shadow of a woman.

"My brain was tortured until f could remember but little. I could not sleep or eat and was redaced in weight to a mere skeletia. What little f did eat could not be digeated in my weakened state, and caused me aniold misery.

"My skin was muddy, my eyes were cavy. I was dizzy all the time and totally anilt for even ordinary bousework.

"Dectors prescribed for me without avail. Medicine was recommended and taken in quantity but it did no good.

"Time and time again I was at the brink" of despair. Day by day my irouble grew worse, and dark indeed was the day before my deliverance.

"A friend of mine told me about De, Williams' Pink Pilh for Pale People and what they had accomplished for others in my condition.

"It was the first glimpse of the sun of happiness through the dark clouds of minery, "I bought a box and took them. Even then I felt their effect. I bought more and continued to take them until I was well and strong.

CLEVER TRICKSTERS. VERSATILE SWINDLERS THAT INFEST

Beleetive's Story of the Wors That Arm Dark of the Famous Combling Resort. How line Man Worked the Book-An

To be a detective at Monte Carlo 14 ta To be a detective at Mante Carlo is to be all things to everybody at one time. The place is no sincerny. I spent two full secons at it, and felt an exhaustion when I fullshed as the variest rone did who had apent his time his every dishonest game. My life there was one absolutely behind the seepes. I was not a detective for the gambling tones, but for prominent jewelers, a liren who had to watch every fewel of nide unit value worn in that remierous of adventuresses, ex-cunviets, swindlers and sharpers.

The diamond nockbee worn by the beauty at super would be rented from us. I would have to keep ten paces, near her during the hall or illiner. Did she have a input flutation in a resessed center, I was there. Did she take supper a deux, I watched every mouthful. Was I afraid she would run away with them? Possibly, line what I did think about was this, that the head that dangled the momente was ready for the revolver the listant some man attempted to take the jeweb from her threat.

man intempted to take the jewels from her threat.

Would she thank me forever for my kindness? Perlaps so, perhaps me.

She was most probably in the scheme. She rented the jewels at a good price. A man, her accompilier, would rule for of them in whark sorner. She was accepting his actentions octentibly because he was tenut Blank. She would report in tears of her loss to the firm. Int what could she dot she would ask. Her accompilee would have time to disguise thoseif and get to Paris, sell the jewels and finally the two would alve time to disguise thoseif and get to Paris, sell the jewels and finally the two would alve time to disguise thoseif and get to Paris, sell the jewels and finally the two would alve the profits. They might actually be of table hirth.

And for these teleks I and my colleagues watched and walled. It was a madder, while life than any one knows. That is why I can tell you stories no one else has ever fald you, tales, that have never yet appeared in print.

Now let use tell you a story that no non-hui a detective could tell you.

I'll give you now of my hardest cases. A man passed a forged draft at the fewelse's in Nice for jewels; then mother at a slap, I was put on histrack. Here's his history: John James was a swell in fashiomalic nuttie, came, muncede and all the paraphermalin of "dodlism." He "went broke" at the batker, who watches every fuse, given sufficient money to take him home, pay his hadel hill and sead him out of town in good monner. He had to sign a pager saying he would not retorn to the table or allow the councy they had given him to be placed on the carpet.

He returned from the first statian, had a barber shave him. Instead of the blood mustache are black shie whiskers and a jet black wig, a pair of colored glasses finishing the disguise. He bearied glasses finishing the disguise. He bearied glasses finishing the disguise. It be boarded at a new place; called himself abon Smith and played his return money at I had a widew, ascinating coy and young. The disguise was excelle or when raised a fan kept at the mouth

It will be remembered, Thoseophy is the theme of the play, and much merriment's gotten out of it. There are a great many funny situations in the contedy. Charles Braddians, Gus Muck and Ado Gilman have congenial parts in the play. The principal people introduced in "My Friend from India" are a retred Kinusas City pock packer who brings life family to New York The poor widow was not lucky. She lost again and again and went to the ellies for The pear winns were the office for her return money.

The fourth disguise was that of an old man, suffering pain, fearful of people, shy. He was vivy centions, avoided every cond. He was registered James While. He lost and could got his return money, but says he would rather kill hisself than huntil atch hinself. I medical my announce and revideer before I put through with them both, for she also was an expert.

I did note slight place of detective work over the tables which was interesting. I was watching the players rather strictly, trying torpet a woman when I wanted to arrest. An old maid came in and sathown at the table. She was English and very shy and alone. I turned my attention to her. I foncied she was green, and I watched her play with an annosed interest for a moment. She pulled out her pairs and with hestather placed a gold ionis on No. 22. It was her first gundle, and the idd maid leaked scared out of all her senses. I saw she thought she would never be reinstated into propriety after that louis drouged on the trumber. A "breaking down of the nervous system" is the way of expressing the result, it means a depleting of the nerves instaced by prolonged strain; overtaxing of the nervous system; a product of overlurry and bustle.

It allects all people in all walks of life, it billies physicians of all schools.

prostration I twice with gastritis.

"These attacks would throw me into spaarms.

"I could eat neither meat or vegetables.
"I my bare feet touched the floor I was immediately selized with cramps.
"I was used up helpless, hopeless.
"I commenced to take Dr. Williams' Plnk Pills for Pale People. One box was consumed and I lett no better. This discouraged me.
"My wile urged me to try the pills some more, leeling thai my life depended upon the result.
"I continued to take them.
"Since then, and it has been several months, I have enjoyed life.
"Have preached all summer and held revival meetings for lifteen weeks.
"I have had no muscular exercise for years, but recently, have done considerable hard work in my garden, my muscles standing this test remarkably well.
"Every Sabbath I preach three times and now think I am good for another twenty years, if the Lord wills."

To add weight to his words, Rev. Me-Gready made allidavit before J.D. Brookes, Notary Public.
Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People exert a powerful influence in restoring wasted nerve power and in purifying and enriching the blood. Druggists consider them the most effective remedy which they dispense.

Special Report on the Sugar Reet, A special report recently issued by lie department of agriculture covers in detail the present condition of the sugar heet industry in this country and the results of experiments made by the dopartment in the production of sugar from beets during the past year. It is divided into two sections, that of the chemist and that of the field ugent who has personally inspected numerous sagar beet plantations and factories and inter-viewed practical growers and manufac-beet and data from the various states where cultural experiments have been male.

Part second, the report of the field.

Part second, the report of the field ugent, contains practical directions for preparing the soil, planting, thinning, cultivating and harvesting. Siloing, irrigation, blight, the value of the crop, factory conditions and other important questions are also discussed.

The report, us a whole, is a valuable response to the widespread and popular interest that exists in this country in the sugar-beel industry, and it supplies information desired by a large number of people.

have eured many cases of almost similar nature.

The vital elements in Mrs. Lord's blood were deficient. The haemoglobin was exhausted. She was until tor the strain she was compelled to undergo. Her nervous system was shattered and her vitality dropped below the danger point. A collapse was inevitable.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cured her by supplying the lacking constituents in health by lilling the velns with blood rich in the requisite element of life. The heart resumed its normal action; the nervous system was restored to a state of harmony, and the neuralgic allection disappeared.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by druggists everywhere, who believe them to be one of the most ellicacious medicines the century has produced.

On their arrival Pierre presented him.

"Mine. Durand, my friend, Jacques Duval!"

Pierre Darand and Jacques Daval had been brought up logether, so to speak.

As small boys their parents, friends of long standing, had taken them to play in the Luxentbourg, and it was while making sand houses that their intioacy had commenced. May I say, that ever since I have been a citize at f Weymouth, I have been pained by the apparent desire of every one to make all possible out if the tawn, not to make as much as possible of the tawn. The idea in Weymouth arrors to be that office holding is an opportunity to serve oacself not oserve the people. Our town book reveals the fact that at least one thought in the natural that at least one thought in the natural and our town officials is "What can I get out of it?" Now in this particular city I found that

Now in this particular city i found that an intense jealousy for the welfare of the town possessed all, to such an extent is this trus that the city officials sorre without pay. The Mayor, the Common Commit, the Roard of Vealth, the various Committee the such as the comment, the Roard of Vealth, the various the Board of Health have enacted and crifores a most stringent set of rules, by breams of which liberty of action is much restrained, but also the rate of mortality in the city has been very largely reduced. The ettizens fiall some of these rules very liksume, yet they submit to them cheerfully, because they perceive their value to the effect of the city. the rity. At the auggestion of this Board they have just remodeled their High School hubbling at the expense of many thousands of dullins, simply on the score of health. The President of the Roard told me of

he auxious days and the sleepless night

the anxious days and the sleepless nights be had passed in devising and enforcing these laws, entirely without compensation from the city.

This city news its own electric light plant and its are lights east about $5.000 per year. The Commissioners pride themselves upon the low rate at which they furnish light to the city and save a sition. uish light to the city and serve within they impay. The Superintendent of the works could commant $300000 per year to the services dawhere. He gives his service to the city and all his skill and talent la s freely used for city. He has illicorered a new way to occur-mize coal; and more than this, every pound of coal is weighed before it is burned, thus keeping a check upon the dealer who supplies the roal, and encou-aging the treman to be as economical a possible in the use of real. A daily recent is kept of the coal burned and an effort made to beat the record of the day before, In the base of the chimney of the electric works, is a fire gruof vanit for the town resords unit here for economical reasons.

I spent some time in tooking over this plant and talking with the Superintendent plant and taiking wise inc.
and examining his tigures, and I was impressed with his real to serve his city with the best at the least rost in the city.

There was a time when all through New England, it was esteemed as honor to serve one's town in any capacity, to make noney out of the town was the last thought.

If we could have a revival of this old sentiment in Weymouth, pathips the question of taxation and some other ques-tions would be on the way to solution.

Out of this vacation experience may I suggest this as a motive for every one who lives within the fair horders of Weymouth.

A STRATAGEM.

"Now my dear Franz, let us talk as man to man. You do not have her but for the money she will living you, which would be $1,000, with which you would ret your self up in the turning lossnesses. Her father self up in the investing business. Her father from's you, for you are a decent sort of fellow, and distlikes use, for I am somewhat of a dexit. Now, as maney is the blea, I will give you hard cash in hand $1,500 to take yourself out of the way."
"What, pay it to me on the spot?"
"Yes, on the spot,"
"All right thou, give mathe maney and I will leave the cite."

I will leave the city."

Now, it happened, as is frequently the case, that the fair Gretchen liked the better booking man of the two, despite his spice of gaysty. Her father, a tubesconist, however, was set dead set against him that it was impossible for bin to visit her openly, and so the two land recourse to stratagent.

They must be the dead of alghitout of the sound of the sources of her honorable lather, and they agreed to all thut was huppy and ensteading. She was shocked at the posse with which Franz let her go and after poundering upon it she become afraid that there was some little farce in the transaction, and, sure enough, three days afterward, during which her father bud growhed at the monapearance of the lover, she startled her friend Carl by whispering in his car that has was sure that both she and her father were in remove from the city, as she boil witnessed many strange movements which could not be accounted for in any other way.

strange movements which could not be ac-counted for in any other way.
"Hum, ham!" thought that shrowly young man, "This will not do. Try and bewait Franz for a day or two, and per-lays your father will tell you."
The little blue eyed minx netually did this wheked thing and wept coplously for lours together. hours together.

The time came. The goods and cheatels of the tobacco merchant were packed, and in the darkness of the might be sucked his parting pipe, sitting on a corded bax containing his wardrube, while Gretchen, paid and shivering, sat beside him, holding her sachel and looking auxieusly in her forcinger, on which as yet me ring appeared. Meanwhile strange things were goding on a few noises out of town. The virtuous Franz walked and of his bodgings and preserved in the depot, chuckling. He was in his normal camiltian, built interface.

At a dark part of the way he was jumperented.

At a dark part of the way he was jumped open by a strang leilow, who took him up bedlly and carried him to a stable in the rear of some leadldings, preventing him from erying as herwent. He entered the turned up all light. Of course it was farl. He took some leather straps from a hurness and bound up the fellow very the turned and bandaged his munth.

"Now, my dear dovil, we ure likely to be even. You shall stay where you are until seanchody limbs you in the morrhing, and I shall go and marry your intended wife. for years afterwards from diseases contracted then.

For years his health was shaltered; his sulferings increased. He was unable to gain relief, but now he tells a story which is of profit to many:

"I served three years in the 124th Illinois, enlisting at Kewanee, fil.," said he. "I was in Libby Prison and suffered like many anober Northern soldier.

"The strain of army life did its work in undermining my health, although the colapse did not come for sometime after.

"For filteen years I suffered from general debility and nervousness so badly that I could not sleep. Indigestion resulted and my misery increased.

"My eyes began to fail, and as my body lost vitality my mind seemed to give way. I could scarcely remember events that happened but a lew weeks before.

"For two years I was unfilted for business. I was just able to creep around during part of this time, and there were many times when I could not get up.

decided to try them. That was in 18%. I bought a box and took the pills according in instructions.

"Four days later I had the happiest hours I had known for years. That night I went to sleep easily and slept soundly as a child and awoke refreshed.

"After I had taken foue boxes of the pills, I found that I was cured and had also increased 27 pounds in weight.

"This greatly surprised my friends, who thought my case was a hopeless one. I began my work again and have continued ever since in excellent health.

"Another valuable gain to me was, that while I was taking these pills I had been cured of the smoking habit, which had formed when I was a boy and had clung to me all these years. The craving for tobacco left me and I have never experienced it since.

"I cannot say enough for these pills and have recommended them to many."

To verily this stalement Mr. Harringtan made affidavit to its truthfulness before Lincoln M. Coy, Notary Public.

Dr. Williams Pink Pills for Pale People strike at the root of disease by acting directly upon the impure blood. Their power is marvelous and many wonderful cures have been made. Druggists consider them a potent remedy, and all sell them.

Melancholy Fallace.

The Hipping evil and why it flourishes 1nd spreads is always a subject of interest, and the failure of the efforts of Landlord Tilly Haynes of the United States hotel in flosten and the Brinited to the practice In his establishment and the comment thereon led him to till this story about it:

"What railed my attention particularly to it and made me disgusted with the whola practice was our experience in Milan. When we came to take our leave there, I had already given tips to the servants who waited on us, to the head waiter and to the chambermald, and supposed that everything was right. Now, in Milan the hotels are different from what they are in this country. They have an inner court, into which the carriages drive and from which they depart with their guests, instead of leaving from the front of the hotel, as they do in this country. Before the carriages drive and from which they depart with their guests, instead of leaving from the front of the hotel, as they do in this country. Before the carriages drive and from which the carriages drive and from which they depart with their guests, instead of leaving from the front of the hotel, as they do in this country. Before the carriage drives all is struck.

"When we were ready to leave, with everything all right, as I supposed, this bell struck, and we were at once surrounded by some 20 servants, bowing and smilling, waiting for their tips. There were more waiters and more chambermaids, who had not done a thing for us. The whole affair made min and. They had been tipped all that me and alaquerrectypes of the whole affair made min and. There were more waiters and more chambermaids, who had not done a thing for us. The whole affair made me mad. They had been tipped all that was right already, but they surrounded the varriage and there was no getting away. I had same frame pieces in my pocket, and I tossed them out to the crowd, one here and another there until I had gone around. Then I turned to the preprietor, who had come out, gave him my cord and todd him that if had in the law enough money to my regular wages to his servants, if he would send me his address, I would see, when I got home, that he had enough to pay them off with.

"Well, I came bome mad with the whole system. I determined to stop It in my hotel. So I had printed in the laid of the three with triumph, "Neil Wadding ton, who has always claimed to be several yets and the with triumph, "Neil Wadding ton, who has always claimed to be several to the whole system. whole system. I determined to stop it in my hotel. So I had printed in the bill of furn in large type and with two hands pointing to it the statement that the waiters were paid liberally by the holel, that they were expected to render satisfactory service, and if any one falled to do so it would be a favor if the number of the man, which each one had to wear, were reported to the head waiter or to the proprietor. In the course of two or three days I noticed that the waiters were looking pretly soler and were lalking quietly to them-selves. It was not long before two of the iddest came to me in my office.

""What is 11?" I asked them.

"They bowed and hesitated and look-They powed and resulted and cook-ed confused. Then they said that floy wern a committee of the waiters to come and see an about the notice print-ed on the bills of fare. 'It is jus' a lit-tle we git,' they said, 'only $1 or $5 a mouth, said. It's jus' coungh to do up de white vests with an pay for de ci-

"They said II over two or three times. I saw that they had un excuse, and, like 'trockelt's coon, it would be best for mo to come down. I asked then how many there were of them. They replied that there were 40 on the sides besides three head waiters. "'Now,' I said to them, 'you are getting $20 m month and your board. After this your wages will be raised to After this your wages will be raised to $25 per mouth and your beard. That was $200 a mouth, or $2,400 a year. So they went leach to work, and the notice remained on the lefts of fure, but I found that it was impossible to stop the tipping. The guests who wanted to be served particularly well would not give the tip directly, but would leave it under a plate or mapkin, so that the waiter would get it.

"This went on for about a year and a half. I don't doubt that the waiters got more than $5 u mouth uplece out of Richard Wagner as He Was.

The widow of Richard Wagner some time ago authorized her bushand's lifelong friend, Houston Stewart Chamberlain, to write, with her assistance, two articles on "The Personal Side of Richard Wagner." Mr. Chamberlain undertook the work, and The Lables' Huma Journal secured the material. The articles are singularly valu-able in that they give a complete picture of the man in his home and shally life, and contain much new matter, widle many of the illustrations and portraits have neve been printed. There will be two articles, "His Personal Side" and "How He Wrote His Operas," and the first one will appear in the October number of the magazine.

No man is better known and liked in that rich tier of Illinois counties, of which Peoria is the centre, than genial Chester S. Harrington, of Princeville, Ill.

Mr. Harrington is a veteran of the late war. Liku many another brave soldier, hu suffered not only during that service, but for years afterwards from diseases contracted then.

For years his health was shallered; his sufferings increased. Hu was unable to gain relief, but now he tells a story which is of profit to many?

"I served three years in the 124th Illinois, unlisting all Kewanne, Ill.," said he." was in Libby Prison and suffered like many another Northern soldier.

"The strain ol army lile did its work in undermining my health, although the collapse did not come for sometime after.

"For litteen years! suffered from general debility and nervousness so badly Ihat! could not sleep. Indigestion resulted and my misery increased.

"My eyes began to fail, and as my body lost vitality my mind seemed to give way. I could acareely remember events that happened but a few weeks before.

"For two years! was unfilted for business. I was just able to creep around during part of this time, and there were many times when I could not get up.

"My brother is a doctor, but all his efforts to hrlp me failed to give any relie." It ried a number of remedies without avail. Finally, having read articles regarding cures that had been eliceted by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, I decided to Iry them. That was in 18%. I bought a box and took the pills according to Instructions.

"Four days later I had the happiest hours I had known for years. That night I went to sleep easily and slept soundly as a child and awoke refreshed.

"After I had then four hours of the

I went to sleep easily and slept soundly as a child and awoke refreshed.

"After I had taken four boxes of the pills, I lound that I was cured and had also increased 27 pounds in weight.

"This greatly surprised my friends, who thoughI my case was a hopeless one. I began my work again and have continued ever since in excellent health.

"Another valuable gain to me was, that while I was taking these pills I had been cured of the smoking habit, which had formed when I was a boy and had clang to me all these years. The craving for tobacco left ms and I have never experienced it since.

"I cannot say enough for these pills and have recommended them to many."

To verify this statement Mr. Harrington made affidavit to its truthfulness before Lincoln M. Coy, Notary Public.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People sirike at the root of disease by acting directly upon the impure blood. Their power is marvelous and many wonderful cures have been made. Druggists consider them a potent remedy, and all sell them.

opening their eyes to a great fu-ture. When Spain was all powerful to the Philippines and crosked out relad-tion with remorseless ernelty, a general non with remorseless principy, a general relection was an impossibility. Naturally the great mass—and it is the mass which mast rise up in order to curry on a rovelation—felt in awa of the power which had held sway over them for centuries and supported itself with magnificence which was the more lunguages at large-greated the perfectle. magnificence which was the more Impressive as It upproached the barbaric. Weyler declared long ago that the only way for Spain to keep order in the Philippines was to change its method of government there. That means that the natives have progressed, have learned something of the rights of man and cannot longer be held as saving chartels. The most probable effect of the coming of the United States and the smashing of Spanish power by sudden and overwhelming blows is to sharpen the desires of the people for greater lib rty and to spread the notion unoug hem held by the conthern negroes when the enuncipating army uncreast among them. This is a year of jubice, and it may be quite as difficult to hold the ambitious and bondstrong among the Filipinos in check us to discluline their Filiphios in circuit is to assignment near late unisters. A Spaniard would say that the Philippine insurgents are an ararmed rabble. That is the language always used by powers that are mul-wish to continue to be when speaking of revolutionists. Furthermore, the inor revolutionsis. Furthermore, the in-surgents were compelled last winter to turn over all arms to Spain. So when Dewey's guns shattered the hold of their hereditary enemy in the Islands the campared but unsubdued Filipinoa were helpless.

In the advent of Dewey the insurgents saw their opportunity. At first the poor and merly and weak unong then thecked to the American camps to beg, to sell, to labor, to do maything that would bring them good out of the stranger. Stalwart men gathered Irlands, and, armed with the machete, represented themselves as insurgents, taking orders from Agnimaldo, who had taking orders from Agnimaldo, who had been posing as the histogent chief from the time that Dowey set sail. Gradually these bands armed themselves with Manser ribes and began to fight the Spatiards on the outskirts of Manila. The Mansers did not come out of the American ships, and the insurgents had no means for buying them had there been a market open. In fact, the ribes were captured from Spanish soldiers. A band of histogenis without ribes secured the covertal weapons by first ot-A hand of insurgents without rines secured the coveral weapons by first of-tacking small parties of Spanish sol-diers and taking their Mansers. In these final to lainl struggles the long, keen mocheto ent down the enemy sa quickly as to spread surprise in the ranks, and there was little resistance offered except when the Spaniards were under cover. In these attacks the insurgents always outministed the Spaniards, and they numbered the Spinnares, and they thought no more of life than the Tarks. If it rost three or four Filipinos to get one Manser, the game was worth the price. At the rad of May Agnimide numbered about 500 followers, armed with Mausers taken from the enemy in battle. About that time a fillbushering steamer handed 2,000 Remingtons, with plemy of minimution. No time was lest in getting to work, for the night of the arrival of the new guns and m of the arrival of the new guns and un-immition 600 insurgents crossed a small lay between Cavite and Manila and handed in front of 2,000 Spaniards who had layer briven not of Cavite. When daylight came on, the insurgents funnl themselves in a trap, for the only read of retreat, a marrow neck of land, was under control of the enemy.
With their usual contempt for the rebels the Spaniards let them alone for wo days and on the third day sent un aferior force to gabble them or drive hem late the sea. Hat the insurgent lim't drive at all and ended the light by killing and cupturing 174 Spaniards, Mausers and all. Next day the Span-lards sent another weak detachment aut, and the insurgents killed and captured 231 more, securing that number

It was this held dash of the lushr at was this bold dish of the libstreents in Covite province which eventhally brought them to the doors of Manila and would have placed that city in their power hat for the Americans. As quatters stood after the last regules of the Spaniards, the only help for them the spaniaris, the only resp for their would have to come out from Manila. To prevent that the insurgent general stationed 500 rebels, orned with Mau-sers, in a pass where three can hold a thousand in check. In some intro rights about that time the rebels captured four small field guns, which they planted to defend thogass.

Barely had the lusurgents got their defenses remly when the Spaniards marched out of Mamila, 4,000 strong, to clear the rebels out of Cavite province.
The position taken up by the Filipiuos was strong by nature. Its approach from Munila was by a readway through a swamp overlooked by the lineurgents, who were massed near a bridge. Marching boldly ulong the road, the Spainiards confronted the pass, and, after firing shells at the bridge for a time, charged forward. The insurgents held their fire until the enemy came close up, then let loose with their Minsers and the four fieldpieces. In a few minutes there were no Spaniards in sight that were not typing in the result dead or helpless. As in Cula, so in the Philippines, the Spaniards despised their foo and paid the penalty of shortsighteduess. Stand-ing off at a safe distance, they peppered the bridge and its defenses with vannon shot and bullets, but the rebels beld on, not, however, wasting annualition up-on the distant enemy. Then the Spanon the distant enemy. Then the Spaniards trud it ugain, with worse luck than before. The small field gams and the Mausets of the rebels played havee in the Spanish ranks. That ended ull utrempts to carry the bridge that day.

An American correspondent wrote to the New York Herald a description of the scene at the bridge during the time the Spaniards were in front of it. Hu stated that the insurgents were very cool and soldierly. They did not recklessly expose themselves over the para-pet, but kept low and fired, when firing pet, but kept low and fired, when hing at all, through be pholes. Due active rebel was a boy of 13, whose rifle had been cut down to fit his cize. This had was eager to get his chance ut the parapet, and, when it came, irred eadly, as though to make every hullet tell. This they uil did, but the Spanian's shot wide of the mark, so tunt the rebela apologized that thern should to ro fittle real war work going on. While the correspandent was at the front the redels were beeiging Cavite church, an operation which lacted unite days. It was there, he said, that the rent the rebets were besteging Cavite church, an operation which lasted uned days. It was there, he suid, that the Spantards showed real plack. At last whole of Cavito province was in the hands of Agninaldo's men. Over 2,000 Spanjards had been taken prisoners with Spainards mail secretaken prisoners with arms in their bonds. Six field guns had also fallen into rebel hands. The city of Manila was then inclosed on the morth and south by the insurgents, all with very little and from Americans, because Dewey had no troops and could

In wars among themselves the lubab In wars among themserves too number thants of the Philippine islands have shown savage courage. Their priests have taught them that death in battle is simply translation to a happy life be-youd. It is related that at the time of the British conquest in 1702 the Span-iards made use of native allies. The Debtide content. iards made use of native unics. In British captured Manila by storm, but before that took place 0,000 natives clurged the British, and with their knives cut through to the third line of liritish saldiers. Only 100 Filipinos

Hritish sadders. Only 100 cirpinos survived the clurge.

Uprisings in the islamls have been unmerous, but generally conflued to one Island or tribe. In these uffurs the Filipinos have been brave without reason, but their wrongs were more interested than death in battle. Spunish the state of the property of the proper warfare is horrible in the nineteenth warfard's mortiful in the indecedital centrary. What must it have been but the centuries past? The Spaniards did not scruple to shaughter Chinese by the tons of thousands when they threatoned to absorb the trade of the islands. Every to absorb the trace of the assumes. Every uprising of the natives was attended with a slanghler of the rebels out of all proportion to Spaniards killed. Where the Spaniards lost one the rebels lost 100, and where ten Spaniards fell 1,000 rebels bit the dust. Such unsqual warfare would not tell in favor of the Elizabe but for the fact that they keet Filinings but for the fact that they kept on rebelling and facing slaughter by the subline if vain hope that the Spaniards would be werried into reforming things. A School Girl's Nerves.

This record is of especial value to parents. It's a message from a loving mother dedicated to the mothers of growing girls. A truthful narrative of the utmost

It is important that the nerves are earrfully guarded. Mothers who have young daughters of school age should watch their health more earefully than their studies. The proper development of their studies is of first importance.

After the conlinement of the school room, plenty of out-door caercise should be taken. It is better that children tweer learn their a, b, c'n, than that by overstudy they lose their health.

All this is self-evident. Everyone admits it—everyone knows it, hat everyone does not know how to baild the leafth up when once broken down, even the best physicians falling at times.

The following method of Mrs. Siephen Barnes, whose post office address is Burney, Ind., it rightly applied, may save your daughter.

When her daughter Lucy was at that critical girthood age of twelve years she grew weak and nervous.

"Previously she had bern a bright, healthy young glel," says Mrs. Barnes, "She was diligent and progressive in her studies.

"It became necessary, however, for her 1s leave school.

"She was overtaxed mentally and 10 leave school.

"She was overtaxed mentally and months she lost twenty-three pounds,

"We did everything possible for her,
and she had the best of medical treatment.
"Several skilled physicians attended her, but an traclit was apparent.
"A lamily friend visiting we teld how her daughter had been timiarly alterted, but cured by Dr. Williams' Plak Fifts for Pale People.

"She urged us to try the fills, and we finally consented.
"We have always rejoiced that we did.
"The pills helped Lucy at once, and after taking eight boxes she was entirely cured.

"The pills helped Lucy at once, and after taking eight boxes she was enlirely cured.

"She is now in perfect health, streng, weighs ten pounds more than ever before, and her cheeks are full of coler.

"Two years of schooling were missed on account of ill health, but now she can graitly her ambilion to study and beceme an educated woman."

The reason that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People were helpful in the above case, is that likey are composed of vegetable remedies which act directly on the impure blood, the foundation of diseare. As the blood rushes through sill paris of the body, the conveyer of good or bad health, it is necessary that it should be pure, rich and red.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills build up the blood by supplying its life giving elements which nourishes the various organs, slimulating them to activity in the performance of their functions and thus drives disease from the system.

The pills are in universal demand and sold by all druggists.

"Hemi" said the professor warningly "Whom do you mean?"

"This Smith," continued the professor, axis a very executive fellow and remarkably foul of aminoment. His monocunest remasked in termenting the young school fellow, thrown, and some of his methods were as unique as effectual. He tild not stop since of "—the professor pained to give another gionee around; then he remelied the soutenee—"reduct front". Some one gave a little exclamation. "Smith," the story went on, "would hear in poker he the closestom fire. Then he would follow Brown around the play-ground, peuring bit most last in the corner between two walls. The professor paused again.
"It went on form long time," to then said select? "Little Breare never said a word at home, though he spent all his holidars, all bis ledure time, in getting his Shakespeare by heart. His comittee of mind may be easily hinghest. There was no humor in it for him. One day it came to an end it appears that he had recited all that he knew and was still ordered to go on. It may be that the pressed forward, it may be that the probable that he was desperate; it is probable that the bruthe was desperate; it is probable that the bruthe was desperate; it is probable that the limit was reckess. These was a shound, a suiden screen. The iron, fresh from the fire had touched his check!"

"A masty heldent," said one after a long puisse "Of course the brute was expediced." The men from Africa did not think much of the professor. From his place at fittle Mrs. Arran's right hand he same-times included the scientist in a casual planer, in which supreme self satisfaction was slightly tinged with contempt, but that was all With the protesser it was otherwise.

"f seem to know the face."

"You catled him Smith," eried Harrington, "These you forgotten his owno—the unspeakable builty!"
"No," said the professor slowly, "I have not forgotten his name."

The looked up once more, Ills eyes passed around the circle, restling for a moment upon Mrs. Arma's face, clouded and augry still, and then moving to another lace behind her chalt.
That must crilled homeent, the last of Ancedotes of Rand life had far less in-brest for the professor than the peddle in-scripthous of prelistorie man, but he could not help describing that the newcomer was monopolizing the attention, not only of the other visitors, but of the hostess herself.
Somehow the knowledge depressed blu, and he bent a little barer ever lefs plate.
"I almost wish," he sold softly, "that I had not gone away."
"Eh?" cried Dr. Harrington. "Why?

lace is bind her chair.

That was a critical moment, the last of the passage at arras. The hold eyes of the min from Africa did not fall at tirst, though the thrid face had paiced and the strong heads gripped the chair roll convolving to the professor's look was cold, undinching, threatening.

The man trem Africa beat to whisper a word in the whilow's car. She was sarveted but her do no magnitudity to say sarveted but her last or magnitudity to say sarveted but or magnitudity to say sarveted but her last or magnitudity. word in the while's ear. She was sarphised, but had no appearunly to say so. There was a mavement of the dear cortains, a heavy but tooty step in the corridor. Mr Rugman heat descried the company without even saying "goost night."

"I have not forgotten the name," respected the professor called, "But it would serve no purpose to mention it now." And he surveyed the circle with that levalgn smile which lets friends knew so well.

Some time later our geologist, drawing on bis gloves in the hell, was joined by a small boy, juddant and eager.

"Oth," he erled, "I'm glad you told that story, sir! Mannan heard every work of it."

11." "Jack," raid Professor Herne, "you ought to be usleep." "Pur going," replied Jack. "But have you say more tales like that." Because if Mr. Hagman comes and talks again towards." The professor smiled and gently pinched the boy's car, "Don't worry," he sald "It is not likely that he will come tomor

"Very httle," was tim professor's on-usually decisive answer, and when it was spoken he fell into a train of thought from which the companion's remarks could not easily rouse blue. Mrs Arran, descending the states b Mrs. Arran, rescending the states of hind, saw the action and the sinfle. Perhaps she heard the words, too, or It may be that she had nireally guessed the truth. It is my sneplelon that she had never really wavered in her layality to the professor, but had wheely used the visit of Mr. Rugman is a means of bringing her too forwhich his companion's remarks count interestly rouse blue.

The man from Africa had arrived at the child cathedral city on a visit to a friend, and had created semething of a ripide upon those updet waters. He had gained an entrance into that selectcirde which made Mrs. Arran's table its favored place of meeting and had even won his way to the seat of hunor. Ales for the professor!

He had been supplanted, and the ullegtones of the gentle, sucer faced little woman at the head of the table had been given in mother.
